Whites Riot in Chicago Neighborhood

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Thousands of rioting whites clashed with club-swinging policemen in Chicago Sunday night after three separate civil rights marches into all-white neighborhoods.

At least 16 persons — including five policemen — were injured and police arrested 21 persons during the melee.

Police swarmed into Marquette Park on the city's Southwest Side and knocked several persons to the ground with clubs as thousands of white persons stormed through the park.

The park finally was emptied and officers denied anyone entrance.

The violence erupted after a leader of the American Nazi party called on white persons to march into Negro areas.

The violence came after the civil rights marches into Gage Park, Bogan and Jefferson Park neighborhoods to protest alleged housing discrimination.

Marquette Park was outside the area of the civil rights marches, but the demonstrators were met with volleys of rocks and bottles which resulted in some injuries and several arrests.

John Patler of the American Nazi party earlier had told whites in the park they should prepare for "the white revolution."

Soon after his talk, rioting white persons roamed the park and hurled bottles and rocks at passing cars of Negroes.

Squads of policemen withdrew to regroup, and when reinforced, swarmed down a hill into the melee. Officers fired shots into the air.

As civil rights leaders prepared to meet tonight to discuss plans for their next demonstration in Chicago, Rep. Roman C. Pucinski, D-Ill., said he would introduce a bill in Congress which would give courts the rights to limit the number of marches in a civil rights demonstration.

HARDY, Ark. (AP) — Two teenagers drowned Sunday at Camp Taylor near here, one as he attempted to rescue the other from the water.

Deputy Sheriff Fred Duncan identified the dead as Larry Barnhill, 18, of Paragould and Bobby Blue, 13, of Bluffville. He said Barnhill jumped into the water to help Blue, who was here with his family on an outing.

The bodies were recovered from about 15 feet of water. Duncan said.

Nothing Is Clear About Viet Nam War

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — At this moment in history there is nothing truly clear about the war in Viet Nam, neither how long it will last nor how many men will be needed to win it.

Now there are about 290,000 American troops in South Viet Nam with about 400,000 expected there by the end of the year.

Studies reportedly decided the war would last another five years if there were 750,000 Americans there, eight years if there were only 500,000.

But U.S. officials say (A) there is no way to predict how long the war will last, (B) that no such studies exist in the Defense Department and (C) there is no evidence to support such conclusions.

So that leaves the whole question of when up in the air insofar as how many men are needed to end the fighting.

Within the past week Secretary of State Dean Rusk played the same old record over: that the United States has tried in every way to get peace talks going but the North Vietnamese Communists won't listen or have any part of them.

Then this week at a news conference President Johnson talked about American peace efforts but he didn't have anything new to add, either.

"We have made clear during two pauses," he said, during visits of emissaries "to more than 40 countries, in communications with over 100 nations, that we were willing to sit down at any time, any place, and discuss anything that had a reasonable chance of producing a settlement. We still stand ready to do that."

the stars of one series will turn up in the other.

Success of David McCallum in the senior series appears to have dictated the choice of Harrison as co-star in the new show. He, like McCallum, is slight and boyish looking but, where David assumes his Russian accent, Harrison is permitted to speak with his normal British accent.

Where David's shining blond hair and bangs have gradually become more sleek and tidy, Noel's are on the shaggy side.

After Harrison finished rescuing Miss Powers to the satisfaction of the director, he discarded his revolver and took an hour lunch at the studio commissary.

"I really don't know how the series is going," he said, "because I think it is difficult for anyone really to know when one is so closely involved, don't you?"

"But it really is sort of fun — doing something like this that nobody really believes is true. Good heavens, it doesn't even fool the smallest children — my youngest, at 15 months, was able to say 'Batman' before almost anything else."

Harrison's theory about the way-out action of the U.N.C.L.E. twins is that they are, like westerns, morality plays in which virtue predictably triumphs at the end of each story line.

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help US!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to Helen Help US!, this newspaper.

HOW WILL IT END?

Dear Helen: You won't print this unless I tell you my views are strictly for adults and agree with you on the complete moral line for teenagers.

However, when people reach 21, I believe they should approach non-marital sex as they approach liquor. In moderation, at the right time, right place and with the right person, it does no harm and actually makes life much pleasanter. Sex is not wicked, if it were a marriage license wouldn't change it. Over indulgence and promiscuity can turn it into a sickness. Tried before maturity, it blights — just as does liquor. But when two people care for each other and careers, advanced college degrees or other commitments (not including a legal mate) interfere with marriage, I see no reason why they can't live together.

As a number of psychiatrists and sociologists are saying these days, "Consider it carefully and if it hurts no one, go ahead."

Not that I'm against marriage. It will always be around, for the squares, and for me too, someday when I'm ready. Until then, I will consider myself "moral" as long as I don't feel guilty about the things I do. That means I won't be secretive. I'll live with the person I love. — Free in Utopia

Dear Utopia: Utopias fail because humans aren't built for them. Moral consideration aside, I could point out your biggest fallacy is in thinking "it will hurt no one." Someone is always hurt — and it might be you! Until women become a great deal more "equal" than their born nesting instincts allow, in permanent relationships will make them first uneasy, then miserable. Futility doesn't lead to Utopia, friend, but I'll let you find that out for yourself. — H.

Dear Helen: They have no-cal pop, low-cal ice cream even, so when will they invent suds for dieters? — Randy

Dear Randy: . . . About the time they invent a starchless potato. Don't hold your breath. — H.

Dear Helen: With all the rest of the time savers, why can't some smart person figure out a liquid to pour on fireplace ashes so they'll consume themselves and we won't have to scrape out the mess and cart out pounds of ashes which, when we put them in the garbage can, irritates the collector too? — Hopeful

Dear Hopeful: While these inventors are about if they might also figure out a super-disposer to grind up tin cans, no-return bottles, and wastepaper, so that my garbage can wouldn't overflow every Tuesday. — H.

Dear Helen: My wife of 40

Willie Mays Slams 533rd Home Run

Associated Press Sports Writer

Willie Mays may be only two trips to the plate away from becoming the second greatest home run hitter of all time, but M ny Mota is closer to 200 trips away from becoming the top hitter in the National League this season. Mays hit the 533rd homer of his brilliant career Sunday in the first game of San Francisco's 5-2, 5-3 sweep of Houston.

Mota increased his average to .360, best in the league, by rapping three hits, including a two-run homer in the ninth inning that pushed first-place Pittsburgh past Cincinnati 4-2. But Mota has virtually no chance of winning the batting title because he lags far behind in times at bat.

Mays' homer placed him one away from tying Jimmy Fox's 534 and two away from trailing only Babe Ruth on the all-time list. Willie, however, wasn't saying much about the impending historical occasion.

"Don't ask me that," he replied to a question about No. 534. "Why is it every time I get close to something, you guys come around and ask me that?"

The only question Mota is asked these days is how does he feel about not having a chance to win the batting title despite his lofty average.

"It doesn't bother me at all," he replies. "We play to win the pennant. You can't play as individuals."

The reason Mota has only 236 at-bats is that he shares center field with Matt Alou. Alou, however, has 375 at-bats and almost certainly will reach the 502 total plate appearances needed to qualify for the title. Alou currently leads the league with a .344 mark.

Mota's problem is that even if he plays every inning of the Pirates' remaining 46 games, he almost certainly will not reach 502.

Despite Mays' reluctance to talk about 534, he'll certainly reach it. In other NL games, Los Angeles edged Chicago 4-3 in 14 innings, then lost 12-10 in 10, Atlanta whipped Philadelphia 7-1 and New York downed St. Louis 5-4 before losing 4-3.

In the American League, Baltimore whipped Washington 6-0, Boston swept Detroit 8-5 and 5-3, New York took Cleveland 7-3 and 6-4, Chicago and California traded 4-0 decisions and Kansas City swept Minnesota 5-0 and 4-3.

Mota doubled in the Pirates' first run, then snapped a 2-2 tie with his ninth-inning homer. Art Shamsky had sent the Reds ahead 2-1 in the seventh when he hit his fourth homer, a two-run blast, in four consecutive times at bat, tying a major league record.

Mays' homer, his 28th of the season, triggered the Giants to their first-game victory. Bob Bolin and Tom Haller also homered for the Giants, and Bolin pitched a five-hitter.

Len Gabrielson's three-run double in the seventh inning broke a 2-2 deadlock in the second game. Houston's Claude Raymond was the victim of the winning attack.

The Dodgers and Cubs battled to a draw in a marathon doubleheader, the opener taking 4:27 and the second game 3:38. The Dodgers won the first game on Wes Covington's two-run single in the 14th. The Cubs had gone ahead 3-2 in the top of the inning with the help of pitcher Bob Miller's error.

Chicago lost an 8-2 nightcap lead but pulled it out in the 10th, scoring two runs on Ron Santo's sacrifice fly and Phil Regan's wild pitch. Jim Lefebvre, who hit a two-run homer for Los Angeles in the opener, rapped three singles and a double in a losing cause.

Atlanta's Denny Lemaster stopped Philadelphia on five hits while striking out 14. Lemaster also contributed a run-scoring triple to an attack that featured home runs by Hank Aaron, Joe Torre and Rico Carty. Rich Allen connected for the Phillies' run.

Ron Swoboda brought New York the first-game decision with a two-run single in the seventh inning. The hit snapped a 3-3 tie. Mike Shannon hit a two-run Cardinal homer.

St. Louis struck back in the nightcap, winning with a two-

Americans Take the Zone Title

By RICHARD H. SMITH
Associated Press Sports Writer
CLEVELAND (AP)—A pair of 6-foot-2 power hitters, Dennis Ralston and Clark Graebner, already had the Davis Cup Tennis American Zone championship wrapped up for the United States going into the last two singles matches today against Mexico.

In just 59 minutes between showers Sunday afternoon, the Ralston-Graebner partnership overpowered veteran Rafael Osuna and 5-foot-6, left-handed Joaquin Loyo-Mayo 6-1, 6-4, 6-0.

The Mexicans needed a doubles triumph to stay alive for the final day because they lost both singles matches Saturday in the best-of-five-point championship.

But they couldn't cope with the hard-hitting U.S. pair, especially the big serve. Graebner yielded only three points in the six games of the match that he served, winning three of those at love.

Ralston served to open the match, and that first game was deuced three times before he won it. In the next five games he served, Ralston dropped only six points, and heaced Loyo-la.

PITTSBURGH — (NEA) — Atlanta Braves' first baseman Felipe Alou was reminiscing about the days when his brother Matty was a rookie with the San Francisco Giants. Matty is with the Pittsburgh Pirates now, and, along with Felipe, is battling for the National League batting championship.

Back in 1961, Felipe was trying to ease the pressure of Matty's rookie year. So he would show his shy, quiet brother around the league, introducing him to the writers, broadcasters, etc.

One day he introduced Matty to Vince Scully, the Dodgers' announcer. Matty hardly spoke.

"Doesn't he speak much English?" Scully asked Felipe.

"No," Felipe replied. "And not much Spanish either."

Boston and Yanks Sweep Twin Bills

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Chicago White Sox convinced Jim Coates he was a major league pitcher seven years ago.

They proved it again Sunday — the hard way. Coates, rescued from the minors last week by the California Angels, beat Chicago 4-0 with a brilliant four-hitter in his first appearance of the season and first major league start in three years.

The 34-year-old right-hander's route-going victory gave the Angels a doubleheader split with the Sox, who had taken the opener 4-0 behind Gary Peters' four-hitter.

In 1959, when Coates broke in with the New York Yankees, the White Sox were the victims in the first pivotal victory of his stormy career. "I knew I could pitch in the big leagues after that one," he recalls. "I gave them only three hits, all singles, and we beat Early Wynn 3-1."

Coates won 15 of his first 16 big league decisions in 1959-60 but began to slip the following year and eventually was traded to Washington. He drifted to Cincinnati, then to the Angels, who sent him to Seattle of the Pacific Coast League last spring.

There, he won 11 games and was involved in one of baseball's wildest brawls. On May 11 he hit Vancouver's Richard Joseph with a pitch and the ensuing free-for-all resulted in serious injury to Seattle catcher Merritt Raney and the suspension of Vancouver pitcher Rosario Santiago.

The next day, Joseph encountered Coates in a hotel lobby and punched him in the face, breaking four teeth.

Coates would like to forget the incidents. He is determined to start a new career in the majors. "I'm back again, and I'm going to stay as long as I can," he said.

Elsewhere in the American League Sunday, Kansas City, New York and Boston swept doubleheaders while Baltimore blanked Washington 6-0 in a single game. The Athletics trimmed Minnesota 5-0 and 4-3; the Yankees beat Cleveland 7-3 and 6-4, and the Red Sox upended Detroit 8-5 and 5-3.

In National League play, Pittsburgh topped Cincinnati 4-2, San Francisco swept Houston 5-2 and 5-3, Atlanta whipped Philadelphia 7-1, St. Louis beat New York 4-3 after bowing 5-4 and Chicago outlasted Los Angeles 12-10 in 10 innings after the Dodgers won the 14-inning opener 4-3.

Coates held the White Sox hitless until the fifth and never was in serious trouble in launching his comeback bid. "He pitched like a man who wants to stay in the majors," marveled Chicago pilot Eddie Stanky. "I hate to see that kind of performance against my team but I have to admire the man. More power to him."

Rookie Jay Johnstone collected three hits and scored three runs, pacing the Angels' attack. In the first game, Peters retired 21 straight hitters in one stretch while breezing to his 10th victory. Tommie Agee provided the offensive spark with a two-run homer in the sixth.

Jim Nash, Kansas City's unbeaten rookie, scattered three hits before being replaced by Jack Aker in the ninth and won his seventh in a row since coming up from the minors last month as the A's ended a four-game losing string in the opener at Minnesota.

Phil Roof's two-run single climaxed a three-run rally in the seventh inning that pulled the A's from behind in the second game.

The Yankees capitalized on six Cleveland errors — all in the fourth inning — for four unearned runs and the nightcap victory after taking the first game behind Dooley Womack's one-hit relief pitching over the last five innings.

Tony Conigliaro socked a three-run homer, then singled and scored the deciding run as Boston completed its sweep behind right-hander Lee Stange. Homers by Carl Yastrzemski and Don Demeter paced the Red Sox in the opener.

gthe Orioles increased their league lead to 1½ games over Detroit as Frank Robinson hit a pair of homers — his 35th and 36th. Boog Powell and pitcher Eddie Watt also homered, and Watt allowed only two hits before giving way to Gene Brander in the ninth.

Namath Gets Injured in Jet Win

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
The metal brace that held Joe Namath's right knee together works.

How well it works may have been fully established Saturday night under the worst of circumstances when the New York Jets' $400,000 quarterback was located underneath Don Floyd, Houston's 245-pound defensive end.

Namath, however, suffered only a minor injury to his highly-publicized knee.

The action occurred at Birmingham, Ala., one of Namath's stamping grounds when he was a collegian at Alabama. And a crowd of 57,205 — the largest in American Football League exhibition history — was on hand to watch last year's Rookie of the Year.

But Namath never survived the first quarter. He limped off after being hit by Floyd and will be lost to the Jets for two to three weeks, or until their final exhibition game a week before the regular season opens.

The brace, however, may have protected Namath's knee enough to avert a serious injury.

Dr. James A. Nicholas, the Jets' team physician, called Namath's injury a minor strain of the knee and said there was "no damage to the bony structure of the knee." That was translated by a Jets' official to mean there was no cartilage or ligament damage, which would have been far more serious.

Mike Taliaferro took over at quarterback when Namath left, ran 10 yards for the Jets' only touchdown and in the fourth quarter twice moved them within field goal range. Jim Turner kicked a 38-yarder that broke a 10-10 tie, then added a 17-yarder.

In the only other AFL exhibition, Oakland defeated San Diego 14-7. In National League weekend action, Baltimore thumped Philadelphia 31-17, Minnesota crushed Pittsburgh 35-6, Dallas downed Los Angeles 20-10, New York edged Atlanta 14-7 and Cleveland whipped San Francisco 28-17.

The Raiders also won with a substitute quarterback as Tom Flores passed for two touchdowns including a 20-yarder to Art Powell with 54 seconds remaining. Flores took over for Cotton Davidson, who suffered a muscle spasm while recovering a fumble.

Johnny Unitas and his stand-in, Carry Cuzzo, each passed for two Baltimore touchdowns. Unitas hit John Mackey with a 40-yarder and Butch Wilson with a 32-yarder. Cuzzo penetrated the Eagles' defense on a 21-yard flip to Jimmy Orr and a 30-yard heave to Willie Richardson.

Bob Berry, former Oregon quarterback, worked all the way for the Vikings in their game at Portland, Ore., and connected with Lance Rentzel and Jim Lindsey on touchdown passes covering 32 and 20 yards. Jim Marshall and John Kirby each ran back an interception for other Minnesota scores.

Don Meredith and fleet Bob Hayes collaborated on the big play for the Cowboys, a 63-yard touchdown pass in the second quarter that gave Dallas an insurmountable 14-3 lead. Meredith also passed 33 yards to Pete Gent for a touchdown.

Earl Morrall passed for both Giants' scores, a two-yarder to Joe Morrison and a four-yarder to Homer Jones. Ron Smith scored for the Falcons on a 68-yard run with an interception. It gave him two of the three touchdowns the new Atlanta club has scored in three games.

Cleveland rushed out to a 21-0 lead, then coasted in against the 49ers. San Francisco didn't get on the scoreboard until the last minute of the first half. Leroy Kelly returned a punt 87 yard for one Brown touchdown, and Walt Roberts set up another with a 42-yard run.

Computers Play a Role in Election

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Computers are playing key roles in a congressional contest between a supporter of President Johnson and a Republican.

Both U.S. Rep. John J. Gilligan and Taft are using computers to help locate their strong and weak points in the 1st Congressional District, which covers half of Cincinnati and ranges from pockets of poor to swank suburbs.

Each man claims to be the underdog.

"No one with the Taft name running in this community can be the underdog," say Gilligan's campaign directors.

"Bob's the underdog," say Taft's campaigners, noting that Gilligan won his seat by beating a Republican who had never lost an election.

Gilligan, 45, is running on the record of his first term in Congress, a record that Taft, 49, calls a "rubber stamp" of President Johnson's proposals.

Their campaigns, while confined mainly to statements and visits to Viet Nam so far, still may be the most elaborate ever put on for a congressional seat here.

The Taft forces have divided the district into 15 areas, marked in color on a map to indicate whether they are Republican, Democratic or "swing" sections.

All previous voting data has been computerized to provide a profile of the political moods and trends of each of the district's 642 precincts.

Taft's campaign manager, Cal Rubin, has 1,000 or more volunteers for house-to-house canvassing to gather more data for the computer.

Gilligan's computer operation is similar.

"We have had a computerized list of all the registered voters in the district for some time," says his campaign manager, John G. Ruppenhoff.

Gilligan expects to use more than 2,000 volunteer campaign workers, nearly three times the number he used two years ago in defeating Republican Carl Rich.

Democrats are making a close study of 161 key precincts where they hope to get 75 to 80 per cent of the votes.

Gilligan, a graduate of Notre Dame with a master's degree from the University of Cincinnati, was a literature instructor at Xavier University until 1953, when he won the first of six straight terms on the City Council.

He failed to win Democratic nomination for Ohio congressman-at-large in 1962 but two years later was nominated in the 1st District and became the third Democrat in 105 years to win the seat.

Taft, son of the late Robert A. Taft and grandson of President William Howard Taft, was elected to the Ohio House in 1955. He was its majority leader in 1962 when he was elected congressman-at-large.

Two years ago he ran for his father's old seat in the U.S. Senate against incumbent Democrat Sen. Stephen Young. Taft lost by 16,000 votes in a major upset.

Johnson Has Lost Some of That Zip

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — This has not been President Johnson's strongest summer. He moved into the White House like a fireball. Lately there seems to have been a strange lack of zip, not physically but in making decisions.

The State Department provides a good example where Secretary Dean Rusk looks tired. It can be seen that if anything suddenly happened to him there would be chaos in the department.

The No. 2 man, Undersecretary George W. Ball, has publicly said he will resign in the fall. That was weeks ago. But Johnson has never picked a successor, telling people he will when Ball makes his resignation official.

The No. 3 job has been empty since June when Thomas C. Mann quit as undersecretary of state for economic affairs. Johnson has never found or, so far as is known, tried to find a successor.

And now the No. 4 job is empty with no replacement picked. Last month the undersecretary for political affairs, U. Alexis Johnson, was named U.S. ambassador to Japan to succeed Edwin O. Reischauer who is to return to Harvard this month.

And the President has tipped-toed in the more than month-long strike of the machinists' union against five airlines. The walkout has shut down 60 per cent of the country's air service.

He did step in and got the negotiators on both sides to agree to a wage settlement higher than the wage guideline that he wanted other unions to live by, and he approved it. But the machinists members rejected it.

Then, to get the planes flying, Congress considered passing a law giving Johnson authority to force the machinists back to work until there was a settlement. How did he feel about it? With congressional elections coming up, he didn't want labor to get mad at him. He wouldn't say yes or no.

Then, although he wanted business to keep prices down, the steel industry ignored him, and even ignored his plea to consult with the government before raising prices, and went ahead and raised. This really shattered the price-wage guidelines he made such a big thing about. He hardly got mad.

All he did was talk about trying to hold on to the guidelines, which every one knew was old stuff now, while admitting he was looking for new ones. This just showed a great lack of forcefulness.

He has been criticized for not taking a more forceful and publicly visible role against city riots, particularly by Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., who urged him to use the power and prestige of his office to end the outbreak of "lawless and provocative demonstrations."

Johnson has taken some actions but stopped short of the most dramatic and most effective kind: televised public appeals and denunciations coupled with promises of improvements in the ghettos.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said at the time of Byrd's complaint last month the federal government is "prepared to offer any assistance which might be requested or be reasonably expected to help halt the big city racial riots."

The President himself at a news conference said he had personally been in touch with various governors and mayors about the recent outbreaks in several cities. And Katzenbach added: "So have other federal officials."

White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers said he knows of at least 14 occasions on which the President has made statements calling for observance of the law in areas of racial tension and violence.

This probably will be news to a lot of people because Johnson didn't do it in the forceful, public way he would have in the past.

Red-Inspired Demonstrations

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Malaysia's Prime Minister Abdul Rahman has denounced anti-American demonstrations here as Communist-inspired, and pledged his government will deal sternly with the leftists responsible for the outbreaks.

Rahman's statement followed an anti-U.S. outburst Sunday when some 200 Chinese youths clashed with riot police and had to be dispersed with tear gas.

THE WELL CHILD Rapid, Shallow Breathing Clue to Rare Pneumonia

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The tragic death of her 2½-month-old son has left a reader confused as well as grief-stricken. This infant appeared to be well when she put him to bed and was found dead the next morning. A post-mortem examination showed the cause of death to be interstitial pneumonia, a disease that has been increasing in frequency in recent years. It is rare in adults and older children. It is caused by a small organism, the pneumocystis carinii, which appears to be either a single-celled animal or a fungus.

The infant infected with this organism usually takes rapid, shallow breaths and loses his appetite but there is no cough or fever. That is why the parents do not appreciate the seriousness of this often-fatal disease. When it is suspected there is something wrong, an X ray of the chest will show the typical findings of a widespread pneumonia.

Unfortunately, there is no specific treatment for this disease. Giving pure oxygen gives the child the best chance for recovery.

Q—When my 2-year-old son gets a mosquito bite his skin swells up. I have heard that a person with this type of reaction to a mild insect bite could have a violent or fatal reaction to a bee sting. What do you think?

A—A high sensitivity to one type of insect bite would not cause a high sensitivity to the bite or sting of a different kind of insect but, if your son is ever stung by a bee, he may become hypersensitive to bee stings. In that case, desensitizing injections of bee venom would be recommended.

Q—Our 2½-year-old son passed a large roundworm. How does one get them? The medicine he was given cleared them up, but will they come back?

A—Roundworm infestation is common, especially in children. They pick up the eggs on their fingers from the soil. The eggs may be transferred to a child's mouth on contaminated fingers, food or toys. The adult worms are developed in the digestive tract. When a child who has roundworms can't be bothered to go to a toilet but instead deposits his excrement on the ground the stage is set for another cycle in the life history of roundworms.

When the infestation is cleared up it will not come back unless the child is reinfested.

Red Chinese Laborers in N. Viet Nam

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The American bombing of North Viet Nam has drawn an estimated 50,000 Red Chinese laborers across the border to keep road and rail supply lines operating, U. S. authorities say. More are probably available if needed. Whether they are called upon depends on political considerations as well as military necessity.

The historical antagonism between Viet Nam and China is a factor that already must be troubling the Hanoi regime, the sources said. Any influx of Chinese poses a political problem for the North Vietnamese leaders.

Authorities also assume that, in addition to the Chinese laborers in North Viet Nam, more may be working to keep the Ho Chi Minh Trail through Laos in operation.

Unknown thousands of Vietnamese laborers are involved in maintaining the trail. This is particularly true of those segments of the sprawling jungle-covered route that have been provided surfaces hard enough for trucks.

"We estimate that at any given moment they have between 30,000 to 50,000 Chinese laborers available," one officer said.

American authorities give this picture: At one time, almost 20,000 Chinese and North Vietnamese were being used to keep the Mu Gia Pass open. The pass, some 50 miles above the 17th Parallel, is a key point in the supply line into Laos and South Viet Nam, and the North Vietnamese have kept it open despite intensive bombing.

No Miniskirts at Driver's Test

DOUGLAS, Isle of Man (AP) — Driving examiner Bill Shimmmin issued a plea yesterday to girls not to turn up for their driving tests in miniskirts.

Shimmmin, who is just retiring at 61 after 27 years of testing drivers on the island, said miniskirts were an extra peril for the examiners.

"An attractive pair of legs reaching down for the foot controls from a miniskirt is liable to take an examiner's eyes off the road," he said.

Modest Lunch for a Queen

LONDON (AP) — Only a modest lunch is planned for the visit of Queen Elizabeth II to the west country next month, but economy-minded local officials suggest that others attending the luncheon should pay their own way.

Those arranging the luncheon say it will be "a very modest lunch — just a buffet affair." A spokesman added: "I don't think the treasury would sanction a large expenditure at this time." A budget of $4,760 is allotted for the luncheon for 1,600.

Tate kicked both extra points. Fort Smith Northside's Lynn Garner, who turned in a superb effort at linebacker, scored the West's only touchdown with 22 seconds remaining on a one-yard plunge that capped an 86-yard drive.

Key play in the drive was a 37-yard pass from Camden's Bobby Bourgoin to Bill Burnett of Bentonville, carrying to the East seven.

The West never led in the basketball game after the early stages when it held a 3-2 advantage.

The East pulled away to an 8-3 lead in the first six minutes, led 18-14 after 13 minutes and held a 28-26 edge at halftime.

The West pulled within one point several times in the last half, but Pruett, Nash and Ricky Tanneberger of Little Rock Central kept making the big plays for the East.

Pruett gunned in 19 points to take game scoring honors. Nash clipped in with 15 points and Tanneberger had 11.

A third unit player, Harold Givens of Altheimer sparked the West's comeback efforts in the second half. He led his mates in scoring with 15 points and pulled down 14 rebounds, second highest in the game's history.

Danny Keeter, Mountain Home's sharpshooting guard, tallied 10 points for the West.

THE BORN LOSER

By ART SANSOM

Many people are apt to suffer from "mountain sickness" above an altitude of 7,000 feet for a time if they are not accustomed to such height. The rarified air results in a lack of adequate oxygen supply in the blood. Permanent residents of high mountainous regions are often able to live comfortably and work effectively at altitudes of up to 18,000 feet. But even these persons may suddenly lose their adaptation and may become a victim of mountain sickness.

OUT OUR WAY

By NEG COCHRAN

When you get to a bad contract there is no reason to give up. Look around to see if you can find a card combination that will let you make the hand. Then give the cards a chance. Save your moans and groans until the cards fail to come to your rescue.

South's opening heart bid is not recommended. We like light opening bids but South's hand is too light. Then of course, North bid his hand with all the delicacy of a steam roller. He just didn't give his partner a chance to get off the hook and there was poor South limping along 10,000 feet up and one motor stopped and another one sputtering.

West opened the king of clubs and shifted to the jack of spades. South did not play the queen from dummy. It was inconceivable that West would lead away from the king at this stage of the proceedings but it was barely possible that East would be sitting there with a singleton king. Suits do break 6-1 on occasion.

East did not produce that singleton king and it was up to South to try to find a way to gather in the rest of the tricks. Things did not look too good. If he could guess where the queen of diamonds resided South could get one spade discard but he needed two spade discards. How could he develop four diamond tricks?

Eventually South found the answer to his problem. He drew trumps, led a diamond from dummy and played his ten. Then he led the ace of diamonds, ruffed a club to get to dummy, laid down the king of diamonds. The queen dropped and South had his two spade discards, slam, game and rubber.

Woman Dies in Wreck at Prescott

Prescott — Mrs. Lezie Faulks, 82, a resident of Prescott, was killed in a two-car collision on State Highway 24 at the Prescott city limits, State Trooper Bob Cockman said.

Mrs. Faulks was a passenger in a car driven by her son, Caesar Faulks. It collided with a car driven by Gerry Crain, 18, of Prescott. Three children in the Faulks auto were injured.

MALVERN, Ark. (AP)—The body of Michael Davis, 14, of Malvern was recovered from Town Creek inside the city limits here Sunday morning, police said.

A Big Variety of Information Comes Through the Mail

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

In a doubtful world most people believe the rattlesnake is at least one creep that gives fair warning. In a recent experiment only four per cent of a group of these snakes shook their rattles before striking.

Soon it may be difficult for people to find parking space for themselves—let alone their cars. In the next 20 years the U.S. population is expected to add as many persons as now dwell in all the states west of the Mississippi River.

The cheetah long has been thought the fastest animal on earth, and may be. But it has been scientifically clocked at only 56 miles an hour, whereas the American pronghorn antelope has exceeded 61.

If civilization really is "a race between education and catastrophe," we may be buying our way to safety. America spent $39 billion on education in 1963, which is 300 per cent above the figure for 25 years ago.

Lunar Orbiter Is Circling the Moon for Closeup Shots

By ROBERT COOKE

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A short snort from a little rocket has pushed America's Lunar Orbiter into an orbit around the Moon — a perfect spot, scientists say, from which to take close-up portraits of the pock-marked lunar surface.

The 850-pound spacecraft, carrying cameras and other experiments, attained lunar orbit at 11:34 a.m. Sunday when the 100-pound thrust rocket fired for 10 minutes.

Scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory said the blast slowed the shiny craft by 1,510 miles an hour, allowing lunar gravity to trap the Orbiter and swing it into orbit.

Spokesmen for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Orbiter swings in an orbit ranging from 119 miles to 1,160 miles above the moon, every 3 hours, 37 minutes and 36 seconds.

"It has passed its first goal, attaining orbit around the moon," said retired Navy Capt. Lee R. Scherer, program director for NASA, Sunday. "Its next task is to take the pictures. We're confident it will."

The photo mission includes taking 350 pictures of a 3,000-mile-long strip of terrain along the lunar equator, where nine potential landing spots for American astronauts have been selected.

The spacecraft orbit differed only slightly from the planned, or ideal, course, scientists controlling the device said.

"That orbit is well within the spacecraft's capability to complete the mission," said project director Clifford H. Nelson.

Completing the mission will require Orbiter to fire the rocket once again, but only briefly, to bring it closer to the lunar surface.

The planned low photo orbit ranges from 28 miles to 1,150 miles, said operations manager William Boyer.

"On Aug. 18 (Thursday) we'll shoot the pictures of the east limb (east edge) of the moon and they'll be transmitted back the next day," Boyer said.

"Then, we'll transfer Orbiter down to its low photo orbit on Aug. 21, and we'll start taking the main pictures on Aug. 22. We should be through with those by Aug. 29, and they should all be transmitted back by Sept. 15."

The first pictures, those taken before Orbiter descends to its low orbit — probably will be televised to the public as they come in from the spacecraft, the scientists said.

More Raids on Friendly Villages

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Military spokesmen reported today two more apparently mistaken attacks on friendly villages in South Viet Nam.

In the first, five villagers were reported killed and 15 wounded in the Mekong Delta Friday. In the second, four civilians were killed and 35 wounded Saturday in the southern part of the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam.

Two other erroneous attacks last week had been reported earlier.

The circumstances of the attack in the Mekong Delta were not clear. A U.S. military spokesman said it had not been determined whether the casualties were caused by aircraft or artillery. He said the villagers were caught in an action involving South Vietnamese ground forces and supporting aircraft and artillery.

One unconfirmed report said front lawn of the LBJ Ranch, a helicopter gunship was involved. South Vietnamese authorities are investigating.

The attack in the demilitarized zone was carried out by unidentified aircraft. A U.S. spokesman said a preliminary investigation showed no U.S. planes in the area at the time.

In ground fighting, the U.S. command reported that a battalion of the 1st Cavalry (Airmobile) Division clashed in heavy action with a battalion of North Vietnamese troops in the Chu Pong Mountains near the Cambodian border 18 miles southwest of Plei Me.

The fighting erupted Sunday and broke off at noon today. A U.S. spokesman said American casualties were light, and North Vietnamese casualties were not known.

The air offensive over North Viet Nam continued without let-up. U.S. Air Force, Marine and Navy planes flew 108 missions Sunday striking against 14 petroleum depots, antiaircraft gun positions, cargo barges and rail traffic.

Two U.S. planes were shot down by Communist gunfire, and both pilots were reported missing. North Viet Nam's official news agency said four U.S. planes were brought down Sunday.

A U.S. spokesman said both planes were F105 Thunderchiefs. One went down 50 miles north of Hanoi and the other 60 miles north of the Communist capital.

4 Persons Killed on Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An Oklahoma man and his mother were killed Sunday when their car ran into the rear of a truck on U.S. 71, about 13 miles south of De Queen.

State Police said the car driven by Walter Earl Baty, 45, of Sallisaw, Okla., struck the truck, a moving van, which had stopped on the highway.

Officers said Baty and his mother, Willie Sade, about 66, were killed and that the truck driver, Ronald W. Cudaback, 25, of Rogers, was not injured.

They were two of four persons killed in weekend traffic accidents on Arkansas highways, an Associated Press count showed today. The count covered the period from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Sunday.

Lezie Faulks, 82, of Prescott was killed Saturday in a two-car collision in Prescott. State Police said she was riding in a car driven by her son, Caesar Faulks, Jr. The car collided with a car driven by Gary Lynn Crane, 22, of Prescott.

A car-truck collision Sunday on U.S. 83 about one mile south of Ravenden in Lawrence county claimed the life of Bobby Perry, 21, of Ravenden.

State Police said Perry's car collided with a truck driven by James B. Walker of Mesquite, Tex.

Tentative Pact in Airline Strike Depends on Vote

Red Takeover AP News Digest Impossible, Johnson Says

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson says weekend talks with Gen. William C. Westmoreland shored up his conviction that American and allied troops "will not be defeated by the Communists in Viet Nam."

A Communist takeover "is no longer just improbable. It is impossible," the President said after he and Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Viet Nam, concluded a review of the status of the war.

Talking with newsmen on the front lawn of the LBJ Ranch, Johnson tempered his statement with these words: "No one can say how many men will be needed or how long we must persevere. The American people must know there will be no quick victory, but the world must know that we will not quit."

Westmoreland, fielding a flurry of questions from reporters, said additional troops will be needed in Viet Nam before the end of the year. He said it was impossible to determine now the extent of the increase.

The general arrived at the ranch Saturday evening but his presence remained secret until he and his wife attended church services Sunday with President and Mrs. Johnson. Westmoreland spent about 18 hours at the ranch before heading back for Viet Nam.

As the war conference was held in Texas, there were these developments elsewhere:

—The Cambodian chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, said he will ask rovin U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman to cancel his planned trip to Cambodia next month. Sihanouk also said he sees no sign the Viet Nam war will end in the foreseeable future.

—Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., renewed his call for a selective blockade of North Vietnamese ports aimed at cutting off Communist oil supplies even at the risk of sinking Soviet tankers. He appeared on the CBS radio-television program "Face the Nation."

—Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., told interviewers on the New York LNBC-TV program "Searchlight" that the United States must "get over the idea we can bludgeon North Viet Nam to the conference table" because "we're just not going to do that."

Strikers May Vote on the Issues Tues.

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — A settlement agreement in the 39-day airlines strike was announced today, subject to a vote of approval by 35,400 strikers against five major airlines.

Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds said in announcing the tentative contract agreement that a vote by the striking members of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists would be held "possibly and hopefully tomorrow."

Union President P. L. (Roy) Steniller said meetings of the strikers around the country would be called as soon as possible to explain the terms of the agreement and take a vote.

Terms of the contract agreement were kept secret pending the vote but informed estimates placed the total three-year cost at some $90 million, or about 8 per cent per year. Top mechanics now make $3.52 per hour, plus fringe benefits that bring a total to around $4 per hour.

Asked how he felt about the settlement, reached after 20 straight hours of Labor Department talks, Steniller said: "I'm tired. Let's go home."

Reynolds called the agreement a "memorandum of understanding" and emphasized it was not final until approved by the strikers who voted down a previous agreement negotiated in the White House.

If approved by the striking mechanics, it would bring to an end the longest, biggest and most costly strike.

While Steniller declined to predict the outcome of the vote, the settlement in addition to reportedly containing considerably higher wages and benefits than the rejected White House package also contained a cost of living wage escalator clause.

The wage escalator had been one of the union's most vital demands from the beginning of the long dispute and its absence in the earlier agreement was a reason given by strikers in many areas.

Reynolds said "It is an agreement reached by the parties. It was not in any way forced upon them."

He said the agreement covered all the major issues affecting strikers on the five airlines — United, Eastern, National, Northwest and Trans World — plus all local issues on the individual lines.

The agreement also provided for "orderly return to work procedures."

State Housing Profits Cited

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., cited three housing projects as examples of how loose Federal Housing Administration practices permitted windfall profits in Arkansas.

Williams cited the Summit House Apartments in Little Rock; Village Square, Inc., in Little Rock, sponsored by Philander Smith College; and the Baptist Golden Age Home, Hot Springs, sponsored by the Second Baptist Church of Hot Springs.

Young Demos to Stay With Party

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — All Democratic nominees in the November general election will be supported by the Young Democrats of Arkansas, President Jack L. Files of Little Rock said Saturday.

The executive committee of the YDA voted unanimously on a resolution to that effect at a regular meeting Saturday, Files said.

Money Is Subject at Rotary Meet

"What is happening to our money today?" Jack Braunagel asked the Hope Rotary Club last Friday at the weekly luncheon in the Town and Country, The Hot Springs Rotarian, who was in town with a coin show, proceeded to answer his own question with a discussion of our monetary system and the problems it faces today.

"We are losing our gold reserves, our silver supply is depleting, and we will probably be confronted with a copper problem in the near future," he said. Though he offered no solution, he suggested several possibilities.

The program was arranged by Gus Herndon who introduced the speaker. In the absence of the president and the vice-president, the club secretary, B. N. Holt, presided and welcomed the following guests: Joe Wolf, Little Rock; Capt. James Holt, Dayton, O.; Warren Butler and E. C. Lloyd, U. S. Engineers with the Millwood Dam project.
